DEDICATION

MISS HELEN LYNCH

We, the members of the class of 1948, respectfully dedicate this, our yearbook, to Miss Helen Lynch. In her association with us she has proved a capable teacher, willing adviser, and sincere friend.

Morlin V. MacLoughlin
Superintendent of Schools

To The Class of 1948:

Congratulations to each of you, not only for having completed your high school course but upon having been so fortunate as to have had the educational opportunities offered in a present day secondary school. Your program has included training in academic subjects and in addition experiences which prepare for social, moral, and spiritual adult life.

Your diploma states that you have satisfactorily completed the requirements for fulfilling your place in society. Only time can certify to that. Your future successes or failures are the successes and failures of your teachers, your parents and your community. Each has contributed to your life and each will continue his interest and devotion.

The class of nineteen hundred and forty-eight is a special class to me. It has been my privilege to be more closely connected with you than with other classes. I sincerely hope that I may continue to know the activities of each member. May you all enjoy the best of health, a wealth of happiness, and your share of this world's success.

Kenneth L. MacKenzie
Principal

To the Seniors—Congratulations on the completion of your course! "Something attempted, something done" has earned, not repose, but opportunity to attempt more and to accomplish more.

You have acquired from your high school course knowledge and skills through which you may benefit, to equal degree, society and yourself.

That you may have Knowledge to guide, Judgement to plan, Decision to act, and Strength to attain is the confident hope of your teachers and friends of Berlin High School.

LOOKING INTO THE CRYSTAL BALL OF 1969

The erect white-haired woman leoned on the orm of the youngish, piquant-faced woman. They proceeded up the duro-plastic romp to the Minute-Jet, one of the plones belonging to the airline known by its famous motto, "One minute here, one minute there." Miss Louise Sokolowski, o stewardess whose oppearance exemplified the cleon, aerdynowic design of the supersonic transport, showed the old friends of hers to their seats. Billy Bolles, the steward, o hondsone, educoted mon, well-fitted to serve the distinguished clientele of the airline, lifted the suitcases bearing the stencils HML and NYB onto the above rock. For the next sixty seconds the conversation went olmost os fast os the Moc-Loughlin-designed plone.

"Guess who the pilot is? He's our woman-hoter, Phil Stockwell. He bobbies this plone os it were the Miss Glomour Tamosi of Hollywood," wistfully said Bill.

"The co-pilot is the first woman airplane pilot in the history of oviation. Just think Jeanne Ross started her career in transportation by driving Motif Club girls to food soles," added Lou.

"Who designed the sleek uniform you're wearing, Lou?" asked Nancy.

"You meon you haven't seen the exclusive clothes designed by Miss Bett Lou? The classic story told about our Firnhober says that she took o dozen Turkish towels and dropped them around o model. Immediately the Duchess of Windsor walked into the X KLU SIEVE SHOP and said, os the Miss Bett Lou added o few more sofety pins, "It's stunning. I'll take it."

Phil and Jeanne joined the gobbers, hoving left the plone in control of the outomatic pilot.

"Remember the mysterious deaths that occurred on the Minute-Jets o few months ago? The CAA authorities investigoted but exposed only Don Ulkos, the greosemonkey who stowed oway on the New York trip. Only once was there more than one or two possengers per trip that month—the time Claire Podelli, Honno Bodol, Peggy Ringwood, Elsie Buxton, Morgoret Kelsey, Jeon Woods, Emily Repczynski, Florence Nolewjeck, and Anne Negrini requested that o plone with o crew of Berlinites fly them to the notional conference of the Honorary Now Housewife But Former Secretary Club of which Rito Beouliev is president. There were no unexplained cosulties that trip."

"The next trip onother customer was supplied for the Read, Lewis and Johnson Funeral Service and the Seoburg Grovediggers Corporation. Potricio, Gould, president of the Minute-Jet Airline decided to appeal to Bruce Mohon, the doctor notionally known for the results of his hobby, studying the composition of moonbeams. His findings hove relieved the minds of bochelors, Lorry Beilmon and Robert Reeve, disturbed by their moonlight reveries. George Russell and his ossistant Betty Coble, oce photogroppers for the Gob Fest took o picture of the "Ouchitis," the deoth-deoling insect which Bruce revealed. Dove Lorson, editor-in-chief of the Gob Fest, the leading paper of the Metropolis of Berlin, wrote o fiery editorial occlaiming the efficiency of the airlines in dispensing of oll discomferts (The Minute-Jet Airline poyos oll funeral expenses of its victims.) Non suggested to her colleague, the sports writer Ed Soroko, that he endorse the Minute-Jet Airline os the only way for the Poppel's All Hitters Boseboll Team storing Slugger Centurelli and Benchwormer Borboro Repczynski, to oppear on time ot the 1969 World Series.

"After these endarsements, the Minute-Jet Airline managed to get out of the red. Among the many passengers we've had in the last few months were: Barbara Knowles, Saphie Valentni, Barbara Bentley, Pauline Schnitzke and Barbara Bentley, awners of the Secretary Lap Service; Russ McCain, naw a kindly and understanding pastar."

"I've heard that Mac entices little bays ta Sunday Schaal with a promise of farming a football team," said Miss Lynch.

"Ja Tinti, the mast invaluable member of the United Nations, is known as the mast successful peacemaker ever ta use the wiles of her sex far a gaad purpose," said Jeanne.

"Speaking of crusaders, Louise Lund is conducting a campaign ta place a harse in every garage. She believes that there is going ta be a severe shortage of gasoline due to the fact that each family in the city of Berlin naw awns three cars. Betty Lau Fleischer's research in the field of mab psychalagy has led her ta a career as the world's greatest publicity agent. Paul Scalara's orchestra, The Men in the Maan, and Lavis Marina, whose trumpet gushes forth liquid nates, have become the best known musicians of the century because af Betty's efforts."

Even though the Berlinite's conversation had been accelerated, Nan had barely finished the last sentence when the gald ball, an the tap af Berlin's lane skyscraper built and awned by Willis, Bunce, and Duell, contractors, reflected sunlight that caught Phil's eye. He and Jeanne rushed back ta the cantrals. The plane circled slowly around the Berlin City Airpart ta give the passengers time ta acclimate themselves ta the change in speed and altitude. The plane whaashed anta the runway.

A taxi fram O'Connell's, the taxi service staffed with pretty drivers, rushed all the Berlinites, including the aeranauts whose warking day was aver, ta their destination. There they were welcomed by Charles Vigna, principal af Berlin High Schaal. Charlie's freshmen claim that while he was at callege, Charlie missed bassing Berlin High sa much that he just had ta make it his life's wark. Trailing Charlie with her little natebaak, was Simanne Baisvert, Charlie's lang suffering secretary. Syl Janes, physical education teacher at B.H.S. banded up ta the group and slapped everybody an the back.

The group exchanged nates as they walked toward a platform around which a crowd af 2,000 people had gathered.

"Have you ever been ta the Set-'em-Up-Bar Ranch awned and managed by Eddie Reynolds? I spent my last vacation there, and saw Rita Ray, wha is the affical hastess at the ranch and Ray Reynolds wha was hame an leave. 'Billy's' a tough tap kick in the Army wearing quite a few hash marks. One marning I gat up early enough ta catch a glimpse af the milkman jaltng over the dirt raad. The wards on the side af the truck were 'Raineault Dairy, Praducers af the Elixir af Life.' I laoked again as the truck disappeared over the treetaps. Farmer Bill certainly is progressive. The truck boasting af folding wings was an aera-transit," said Syl, just as the nine joined the cheering mab surrounding the red, white and blue draped speaker's platform.

Dignified Charles Vigna, intraduced the darling af the praletariat, the speaker af the day. William Lane, United States senator and a presidential naminee, cleared his thraat and started ta deliver the mast brilliant speech af his career. Mr. Lane's elacutian re-dedicated the "new-schaal" twenty years after the completion af the gem af the Berlin tawnship, still the mast modern and complete instrument af education in the country. The carnerstone was first laid a year after the class af 1948 graduated. Every loyal alumnus af the Berlin High Schaal listened with praud heart ta the Rededication Speech.

FOOTBALL

With a backfield loaded with speedy and powerful talent working behind a well drilled, aggressive line, the Berlin High School football team completed the most successful season in the school's history. The Redcoats, ably coached by Mr. William A. Gibney and Mr. Arthur Kevorkian, wound up their seven game season with an unblemished record. They picked up a total of 119 points to the opposition's 24.

After opening their season against a formidable array of Alumni stars with a close 12-6 victory, the Redcoats found the going a little tougher when they met American School for the Deaf. They managed to tuck away victory number two by a 6-0 margin, however.

New Canaan was Berlin's next foe. They were turned back by a 25-6 score. The Redcoats breezed past Canton to the tune of 32-6. Following this breather the Red and Blue reaped their biggest harvest in Plainfield with a 13-6 win.

In the next game, with Simsbury supplying the opposition, a very convincing 25-0 triumph was tallied. The Redcoats ended up by polishing off Griswold High of Jewett City 6-0.

BASKETBALL

The 1947-1948 season was one of the finest ever experienced by the Redcoats. Under the able supervision of William A. Gibney and Roy Fabian, the Berlin five qualified for the CIAC Class C tournament for the second time in the school's history. In the tournament Berlin easily trounced Woodstock Academy, but was beaten in their second game by a highly favored Morgan High of Clinton.

The season's record of 11-8 might have been improved had the breaks been with Berlin more frequently. The Redcoats lost three hard fought contests against highly favored teams by two points or less.

Despite the fact that three of the first five were seniors, Berlin may look forward to a successful season for many promising first year men were uncovered.

Seven men returned from last year's mediocre team. They were Kornichuck, Soroko, Tinsley, McCain, Clark, Vigro and Focereto. The largest squad in the history of the school answered the initial call for candidates.

The bulk of the pitching was handled by Ed Soroko and Phil Tinsley with Dove McCain and Bill Balles rounding out the staff. Paul Kornichuck did most of the receiving. Wolt Wishort was his understudy.

Infielders who saw action were Dove Clark, Emil Vigro, Carl Focereto, Charles Vigro and Allyn Ward. Patrolling the outer garden were Russ McCain, Dan Barrett, Lorry Beilman and Frank Nolan.

The Athletic Association is made up of representatives chosen from each hameraam. The association decides the price of admission and sells tickets at all Berlin home games. By various means during the school year the members, with the co-operation of the student body, earn money which is used to buy more and better equipment and uniforms for the faatboll, bosketball, and baseball teams. The traveling expenses of the teams and cheerleaders are also paid by the association. Each year letter sweaters are presented by the Athletic Association to those boys whom the coaches think have earned them.

The students named to head the association were: Philip Tinsley, President; David Clark, Vice President; Audrey Caaney, Secretary.
